Thursday night FREE Intro as part of the Journeys CCC event:

Thursday, December 13th, 6:45pm

We are entering into a time that mystics and prophets of many ages have referred to as a shift of the ages. It is a time of intense purification and transformation, including earth changes, sociopolitical changes, and the experience of multidimensional states of consciousness. And as we pass through the winter solstice of 2012, many feel this could be a gateway between worlds, the emergence of a new species of humanity, of infinite creator dimensions awakening fully within the fields of matter.

However we may understand this time of shift, we must remember that we are not passive observers but active participants in this birthing process. Is it possible to expand our perspectives so we can transform fear into ecstasy, chaos into power? How can we make a bridge between the human and divine aspects of our being so we can intentionally co-create a new earth? We will discuss these themes briefly, and then experience an initiation into a mystery school tradition known as 'ilahinoor', a hands-on technique which quickly allows us to merge with our lightbody, thereby creating a direct access to multidimensional frequencies for healing, awakening, and manifesting our unique destiny on earth.

Two Day Workshop $100 for each day or $150 to attend both days:

Friday, December 14th and Saturday, December 15th, 10:am – 5:pm

Ilahinoor refers to a universal field of 'divine light', and is a simple yet profound technique for merging with the higher self. During this weekend training, we will learn to access these energies through an understanding of brain physiology and soul psychology. We will then learn how to share this work with each other in order to integrate higher frequencies of light in the physical body. Turn this page over for a more personal glimpse of Kiara.

My first encounter with Kiara was in Mt. Shasta, probably close to twenty years ago. Dr. Joshua David Stone was annually hosting the Wesak Festival and I loved going. I remember seeing this intense, indigenous-looking fellow sitting near the front and listening intently to all that was being presented and wondered about him. The following year, during a break session, there we were - face to face and quite naturally we held hands and I closed my eyes.

Imagine my astonishment to clearly see a ceremonially-robed figure, sitting in sacred geometry status on a dias, looking into my eyes with love and compassion. He was Kiara, the being holding my hands! Even more astonishing to me was the fact that I didn't consider myself a "seer" and rarely even looked in my inner vision. When I did I mostly then saw only colors and relied on my knowing and feeling sense to help me navigate life.

Because of that inner vision, I invited Kiara to come to Colorado to share – which he subsequently did for many years thereafter. We had many wonderful classes and exchanges in the Denver area.

After Kiara moved back to India, Colorado's next gift from him was sharing about his experiences with "Deeksha" from Oneness University. Kiara was most pivotal in firing up Colorado for what is now shared as the Oneness Blessing and Ilahinoor.

I find my dear and beloved friend Kiara to be passionate, deep, integral and committed and so look forward to sharing his presence with you while he is in Colorado. Please call me to explore possibilities!

Blessings,
